

Communique on European Defence

Madrid, 23 May 2019

The representatives of the member associations of Eurodefense, meeting in Madrid today, 23 May, 2019, discussed the geopolitical changes facing Europe and proposed that the forthcoming discussions on the future of the European Union institutions take into consideration, within the current legal framework, the formation of a Defence Council, the inclusion of a Commissioner for defence matters within the European Commission, and the possibility of forming a European Security Council.

Eurodefense will continue the discussion of these items during the meeting in Bucharest in October 2019.

For more information about this communique please contact the Eurodefense Secretary General, Vice-admiral (2s) Gilles Combarieu (rtd), at secretairegeneralnet@eurodefense.net or national representatives, who can be found at www.euro-defense.eu

About EURODEFENSE

Established in 1994, the EURODEFENSE network aims to foster the awareness of the common interests of European countries, to develop a greater sense of European defence and to support the implementation of the Common Security and Defence Policy.

The EURODEFENSE network has 14 national associations in as many European nations.

For more information: www.euro-defense.eu